Best day trip: Schleißheim Old and New Palace

POSTED 4 JAHREN AGO BY BEST PLACES \(HTTP://WWW.BEST-PLACES-MUNICH.COM/AUTHOR/BEST-PLACES/\)

You know Schloss Nymphenburg? You've seen Castle Neuschwanstein? You've been to Palace Herrenchiemsee? There is still one missing: Schloss Schleißheim, called Schleißheim Old and New Palace. 20 minutes drive from the center of Munich. One the Munich top attractions!

Elector Max Emanuel, who was hoping to become the next emperor had the New Palace built as his future residence. Originally planned as a four-wing complex, it was begun in the winter of 1700. Because of the financial situation in the country, however, the original plan consisting of a cour d'honneur complex with massive side wings, further pavilions and the Old Palace on the west side was gradually simplified. Finally all that remained of the large-scale design was the monumental main tract – the New Palace – without the wings that would have connected it to the Old Palace. On the death of Max Emanuel at the end of February 1726, the palace complex had not yet been completed, but most of the main building was finished.

Take a virtuell tour!

BEST PLACES TIP: BOOK A GONDOLA (only summertime)

(<http://www.best-places.eu/wp-content/uploads/2014/04/Gondola-trip-Schleissheim-Palace-Munich-Best-Places-Munich1.png>)

Josef Spitzlsberger is the only Gondoliere in Munich. In the wonderful park of Schloss Schleißheim you can book him in the evening hours. And you have the option to combine it with a picnic on board. Picnic „Royal“ for example with Champagner, Fois gras and Tarte au citron. Gondola-Tour, Picnic for two and a bottle of sparkling wine „Schloss Schleißheim“ to take with you : 185 Euro. Unforgettable!!
